

Four Seasons Astir Palace is on the sophisticated Athens Riviera, at the tip of a pine-clad peninsula, featuring private beaches, a marina, upscale shops and restaurants. The hotel consists of 303 guest rooms, suites and bungalows with a magnificent view across the brilliant blue Aegean ocean and three private sandy beaches.

The three unique settings allow you to choose your ideal accommodation, whatever the purpose of your stay. From laid-back relaxation in Arion or a dynamic see-and-be-seen vibe at Nafsika to the ultimate in beachside luxury in The Bungalows. Four Seasons offers the perfect Greek seaside getaway, just 30 minutes from downtown Athens.

Arion

Laid-back rooms and suites, just perfect for relaxing, meet modernist architecture, clean lines and a stylish retro-chic design. Home to four restaurants – Greek seafood restaurant Pelagos, the Astron Lounge, Aristotle’s Cigar Bar and Taverna 37 – Arion is also where guests will find the Hippocrates-inspired spa and soothing indoor pool.

Nafsika

Azure sea views from every room and suite, some of which have a private pool, are complemented by expansive, light-filled settings. With three restaurants – Italian trattoria Mercato, a buzzy lounge and the Avra bar, poolside grill Helios – as well as its lively pool, waterfront, fitness centre and luxury boutiques, Nafsika is the energetic hub of the Hotel and the natural place for social gatherings.

The Bungalows

The first part of the Astir Palace estate to be born in 1961, The Bungalows retain the same glamorous allure today as they did then. These are the accommodations of choice for those who want to live the secluded seaside lifestyle of the golden age of Athens Riviera, brought into a new era.
